

Huntington East Middle School

In-School Opportunities

LIBRARY ASSISTANT

HEMS Library Assistants help with organization and management of library resources. These students will learn media production in order to communicate important information to students and staff. They are essential to bridging the gap between library resources and the school community, ensuring that information is accessible and engaging.

MATH FIELD DAY

Math Field Day is an exhilarating annual event that takes place at the County, Regional, and State levels. During this exciting competition, grade-level teams from schools across the area come together to tackle a variety of math challenges. Participants engage in written tests that assess their problem-solving skills, mental estimation tasks that test their quick thinking, and physical estimation activities that involve hands-on calculations.

READER'S SOCIETY

The Reader's Society is a group of avid book lovers who read 3-4 books varying in genre and discuss weekly with one another and select staff throughout the year. While many students can participate, a select few will be chosen to compete in the county wide Novel Knockout competition! We welcome readers of all levels!

PEER TUTOR

Join the HEMS peer tutoring program to make a meaningful impact and support classmates with additional needs. This program pairs students with peers to offer academic help, social interaction, and encouragement, fostering an inclusive and supportive school environment.

HISTORY BOWL

HEMS 8th graders have the opportunity to compete in a regional trivia-style competition that highlights WV's rich culture and history. This engaging event challenges students to showcase their knowledge of local traditions, landmarks, and historical events. The top performers from the regional competition earn the chance to advance to the state level, where they will compete against other students from across the state.

PBIS STUDENT TEAM

The Student PBIS Team serves as a vital link between school administration and their peers. Team members have the opportunity to represent their peers and communicate the school leadership's vision for fostering a positive school culture. They play an active role in leading school-wide initiatives that promote positive behavior, including organizing behavior challenges, teaching behavioral expectations, and managing the school PBIS store.